

I am delighted to hear the news of 10th Anniversary of Light: Science and Applications (LSA). Hearty congratulations to authors, reviewers, editors and publishers on this great occasion. LSA has grown into a premier journal in the field 'Optics and Photonics' and all involved should be proud of this great achievement. We wish LSA continued success for many decades to come. I will be watching with delight continued success of LSA.

Congratulations again and good luck for the next decade and beyond.
